ABOUT TURKEY

Turkey has rapidly and efficiently attained world standards in the field of Medical Treatment due to its Health Transformation Program of the last decade. Through this Health Transformation Program thousands of international patients, not just Turkish citizens, come every year attracted by the top-notch health services that exist here. Hospitals operate in accordance with the national accreditation system and are audited twice a year by the Ministry of Health of Turkey to ensure quality, safety and service standards.

A great number of health facilities in Turkey own ISO 9001 certificate, JCI accreditation, etc. for their clinical services and they also offer 5-star hotel comfort for their international guests. Lots of new hospital capacity has been in the most modern hospitals. In 2020 alone, 11 new hospitals, with a total of 14 thousand beds and equipped with the latest technology, will come into service.

Patient rights, privacy and safety are the top priorities of health services in Turkey. Turkey is one of the leading health bases of the world due to its qualified human resources, competitive prices, advanced technology, and evidence-based service provision at international standards.

Health facilities in Turkey operate through the highest technology available in the world. At the same time, Turkey has made large investments in health information technology in this process. Turkey has become the country using the health information systems, "big data" and "artificial intelligence" in the decision-making processes in the best way.

TURKEY

Turkey is one of the countries involved in the "Age Friendly Cities" program, an international initiative approved by the World Health Organization in 2006 to ensure active and healthy ageing in communities. Any city that fulfils what is required under the headings of outdoor spaces and buildings, transportation, housing, social participation, social participation and community respect for the older people, fulfilling the duty of citizenship and participation in the workforce, information acquisition and communication, community support and health services can be part of the Global Network of Age Friendly Cities.

CITY OF ANTALYA

Antalya is the place where sea, sun, history and nature constitute a perfect harmony and which also includes the most beautiful and clearest coast along the Mediterranean. The city still preserves its importance as a centre throughout history at the south coast of the country, in addition to its wonderful natural beauties.

Antalya is located in the west of the Mediterranean region. In ancient times it covered all Pamphylia which means "the land of all tribes". The land really deserves the name since it has witnessed many successive civilizations throughout history. In the 1st century BC, the Pergamum king Attalus ordered his men to find the most beautiful piece of land on earth; he wanted them to find "heaven on earth". After a long search all over the world, they discovered this land and said "This must be 'Heaven' " and King Attalus founded the city giving it the name "Attaleia". From then on many nations kept their eyes on the city. When the Romans took over the Pergamene Kingdom, Attaleia became an outstanding Roman city which the great Roman Emperor Hadrian visited in 130 AD; an arch was built in his honour which is now worth seeing. Then came the Byzantines, after which the Seljuk Turks took over the city in 1207 and gave it a different name, Adalya, and built the Yivli Minaret. The Ottomans followed the Seljuks and finally, within the Republic of Turkey, it became a Turkish city and an important port. Antalya has been growing rapidly since 1960 and its population is 2,548,308 as of 2020.

The climate of the province is typical Mediterranean: hot and dry in summers and temperate and rainy in winters. Sunshine is guaranteed from April to October and the winters are pleasantly mild. The humidity is a little bit high, about 64%, and the average water temperature is 21.5 °C. Antalya is really a heavenly place where the summer is about 8-9 months long.

Antalya and its surrounding is an important and noteworthy touristy centre on the Mediterranean Coast with its perfect climate and splendid harmony of archaeological, historical and natural beauties, throughout the year. Daily tours to surrounding touristy areas like Side, Alanya and Termessos are available, in addition to longer tours to Pamukkale or Cappadocia or anywhere you would like to go.

CITY OF ISTANBUL

Istanbul is a magical composition of two continents. And especially the Bosphorus, Istanbul Strait will cheer up your hearts. Istanbul is the largest city of Turkey, constituting the country's economic, cultural, and historical heart. With a population of 14.4 million, the city forms the largest urban agglomeration in Europe. Istanbul straddles the Bosphorus strait in northwestern Turkey, between the Sea of Marmara and the Black Sea.

Istanbul is located partly in Asia and the other part in Europe. Its geographical position and its rich history are responsible for a fascinating melting pot of cultures. Tourists are flocking to experience this magical city full of contrasts for themselves, making it the 5th most popular tourist destination in the world.

Approximately 12 million foreign visitors arrived in Istanbul in 2012, two years after it was named a European Capital of Culture, making the city the world's fifth-most-popular tourist destination. The city's biggest draw remains its historic centre, partially listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, and its cultural and entertainment hub can be found across the city's natural harbour, the Golden Horn, in the Beyoglu district.

Istanbul offers an unforgettable experience for its travellers, with its colourful daily city life and dynamic nightlife. The beautiful silhouette of the city combines historical sites and monuments such as Roman aqueducts, Byzantine churches, Venetian towers, Ottoman palaces from the Byzantine, Ottoman and Turkish periods. And the skyline covers monumental minarets with skyscrapers and plazas. And especially the Historical Peninsula and the Bosphorus will make you deeply fall in love with the city.

ISTANBUL

Istanbul is also one of the most lively metropolises in the world (having more than 15 million residents) that offers a variety of intercontinental events, international film, music and theatre festivals, international biennials, and more than 80 museums and many art galleries showcase all the culture, arts and history; including painting, sculpture, photography and more. As for eating out and gastronomy, it means that you are one step away from tasting the delicious meals of Turkish cuisine, from spicy and hot Anatolian dishes to Aegean dishes freshly cooked with olive oil. Istanbul offers a wide range of Turkish cuisine at a variety of well established, good and luxury Istanbul restaurants.

The climate in Istanbul is generally similar to the Marmara region; summer months are warm and humid with very little rain especially between July-August, winter months can be cold and wet with some snow but not as extreme as some other areas of Turkey.

CITY OF IZMIR

Izmir is a metropolitan city in the western extremity of Turkey and the third most populous city in Turkey, after Istanbul and Ankara. Once the ancient city of Smyrna, İzmir is now a modern, developed, and busy commercial centre, set around a huge bay and surrounded by mountains. The broad boulevards, glass-fronted buildings and modern shopping centres are dotted with traditional red-tiled roofs, the 18th century market, and old mosques and churches, although the city has an atmosphere more of Mediterranean Europe than traditional Turkey.

İzmir owes its position as an economically and socially dynamic city to its location, climate and the fact that it has been home to many different cultures and religions. Persians, Ancient Greeks, Assyrians, Romans, Byzantines and Ottomans are just a few of the dozens of different civilizations that the city has hosted throughout its long history.

Lying on an advantageous location at the head of a gulf running down in a deep indentation, midway on the western Anatolian coast, it has been one of the principal mercantile cities of the Mediterranean Sea for much of its history.

In classical antiquity, the city was known as Smyrna. Izmir has almost 4,000 years of recorded urban history and possibly even longer as an advanced human settlement. Set at an advantageous location at the head of a gulf in a deep indentation midway along the western Anatolian coast, the city has been one of the principal mercantile cities of the Mediterranean Sea for much of its history. Its port is Turkey's primary port for exports in terms of the freight handled and its free zone, a Turkish-U.S. joint-venture established in 1990, is the leader among the twenty in Turkey.

Izmir has a typical Mediterranean climate, with hot and dry summers; warm and wet winters. The average temperature is 18 degrees °C. Snowfall is extremely rare, and approximately 148 days of the year are clear and sunny.

CITY OF ANKARA

Ankara is the capital city of Turkey and the second largest city in the country after Istanbul. It is located at the heart of both Turkey and Central Anatolia. The population is around 4.5 million. Ankara is the administrative centre of Turkey and a huge university town, so it has a large population of government workers and university students. As the national capital, Ankara is home to a large population of foreign diplomats and embassy staff, so it offers goods and services that might be more difficult to find in other Turkish cities. It is a sprawling, modern city which has a lot to offer from great food to historic and touristic locations.

Ankara was a small town of a few thousand people, mostly living around Ankara Castle, at the beginning of the 20th century. The fate of the city has changed, when Mustafa Kemal Atatürk and his friends made Ankara the centre of their resistance movement against the Allies in 1920, and established a parliament representing the people of Turkey, against the Allies' controlled Ottoman Government in the occupied Istanbul of post World War I. Upon the success of the Turkish War of Independence, the government in Istanbul and the empire is abolished by the Grand National Assembly of Turkey in Ankara in 1923, and the Republic of Turkey was established. For all these reasons, Ankara has a symbolic significance for the Turkish people. It is the place where a new era for the Turkish people started. It is a symbol of independence, development and Western values.

ANKARA

As for the climate, just like any other part of the Anatolian highland, Ankara has a continental climate. The winters are cold and usually snowy. Temperature is sometimes below the freezing point during this season, but it rarely drops below -15°C at nights. Thanks to the low levels of relative humidity, the hot and dry summers are more comfortable compared to the coastal regions of Turkey. Average daily temperatures in midsummer are around 30°C . Daily temperatures can reach 35°C and above, but is not common and usually last no more than a few days. Summer nights are cool and Spring and Autumn are the wettest seasons, but with an annual rainfall amount of 415 mm, it is unlikely to get much wet during your time in Ankara anyway.
